VET Courses 2016
If you are considering a VET course in 2016 or would like to explore pathways in this area, please see Mrs Swain to discuss possible options.

The following two courses will be the last short courses for 2015.
First Aid Course
The units in this course describe the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to a casualty. This includes life support, management of casualty(s), the incident and other first aiders, until the arrival of medical or other assistance. These skills and knowledge may be applied in a range of situations, including community and workplace settings.
This course is offered as a 1 day practical training course which provides the participant with the knowledge and skills to confidently recognise and respond to an emergency situation requiring first aid.
Students will also be required to successfully complete an online workbook in their own time after the practical training day.
